

LIVE JEWISH LEARNING
with Today's Leading Thinkers

What is a Jew?

Is Judaism a Faith, a People, or Both?
And Why Does It Matter?

Featuring Rabbi Ethan Tucker, President and Rosh Yeshiva at Hadar Institute

WHEN
Thursday, February 12
7 PM

WHERE Temple Judea
5500 Granada Blvd,
Coral Gables

Is being a Jew mainly about religion, or is it about ethnicity? Rabbi Ethan Tucker explores this age-old question by tracing how Jewish identity has been understood across history. Beginning with the era of Alexander the Great—when religion and ethnicity first started to come apart—he shows how this shift sparked a centuries-long debate within the Jewish people. From the Torah through medieval thinkers and beyond, Rabbi Tucker offers a sweeping yet accessible look at how Jews have wrestled with whether Judaism is primarily a faith, a people, or both.

Open to the community. No cost to attend. Registration is required.

RSVP at caje-miami.org/rabbi-ethan-tucker

To honor the endlessly curious, deeply thoughtful, and delightfully irreverent Charles Ganz z"l. His mother, Ellie Ganz, and the Ganz Family Foundation sponsor this series so that others may learn as he once did — with heart, humor, and passion.

